CASINO GAMING FLOOR

SKYCITY ADELAIDE

“WEBB + has reinvigorated the interior and activated the street edges of Skycity Adelaide”

Artichoke, 13 September, 2005

1. North Entry
2-4. Gaming Floor

The Gaming Floor presented particularly difficult challenges. Its situation in an unusually shaped section of the Casino building, between two heritage listed vaulted spaces occupied by the North Restaurant and the Loco Bar, and the requirement to provide a primary entrance from North terrace added to the constraints.

As the area had to compete with the adjacent heritage spaces, strong theatrical statements were required: Huge ten-meter diameter lighting fixtures and reinstated Bohemian Crystal Chandeliers from the original fitout, against a backdrop of reflective surfaces and dramatic concealed lighting achieved the desired effect.

The lower gaming machine spaces lined with timber veneers and upholstered panels in warm tones allow for a high degree of patron comfort. Dramatic cut timber and bronze mirror screens break up and define the line between bar, gaming and circulation.

A new bar and gaming area created within the historic Marble Hall of the Casino, completed from inception to completion in 3 months. The simple form of the bar and the extensive use of mirror are a response to the heritage interior and strong architectural form of the existing space. This simplicity is echoed by the vast crystal bubble chandelier adding elegance and drama without distracting from the surroundings. Plush and comfortable furnishings are offset by a richly toned carpet, with the pattern being derived from the existing window configuration.
